Tappan, the Indian agent at Genoa, Neb., refers to the system of education employed in Indian schools and states very clearly his own ideas as to the character of such education. The Secretary says that while he considers book knowledge very important, it, in his opinion, is not the main object of the attendance of the children at school. "That education," he adds, "is the best which enables a person to take care of himself to the best advantage. Literary studies should be combined with manual labor exercises, but if either isneglected it would be better to be the first." On motion of Rev. Alexander Craig, of the Newark conference, Rev. Dr. John S. Porter was invited to a seat on the platform.

Rev. C. C. McCabe, of the New York conference, moved that Wednesday morning next, at 10 o'clock, be fixed for the election of bishops and general conference officers. He considered that the best way to secure eight men was to vote without much talking and without planning or suggestions. He would not say that the conference would resort to any such methods as are found in political assemblies, but there is a temptation, and he would like to remove it.

It was so referred.

Rev. T. B. Neely, of the Philadelphia conference, thought they should be cautious and move slowly to the election, and moved that Tuesday of next week be fixed for the election.

Rev. J. N. Fitzgerald, of the Newark conference, said there ought to be some suggestions from the bishops as to the number necessary.

Rev. Dr. Daniel Curry, of the New York East conference, said it must be evident to the entire conference, moved that the will understood that he will not offer an amendment to includ THE PREVIOUS QUESTION.

After debate, Rev. Dr. Lucius H. King, of the New York conference, moved the previous question, and the resolution was referred to the committee on the episcopacy.

Bishop Simpson at this point appeared on the platform and was greeted with great applause.

Bishop Harris read the address of the bishops, which was a lengthy document, and gave an account of the work of the church during the past four years There are 99 annual conferences, 14 missions, 11,349 traveling preachers, 12,026 local preachers, 1,769,534 members and probationers. The increase in the past four years was 69,232, the number of traveling preachers who died was 654 and of members 58,891. The accessions were 158,787. In 1883 there were 18,741 churches and 9,815 parsonages, valued at $79,238,055. There are 10 theological seminaries, 45 colleges, 66 classical institutions, 8 female colleges. STATISTICS.

States district court, handed down a decision this morning in the matter of salaries paid by Shipping Commissioner C. C. Duncan to his deputies, in which the court, after discussing the nature of the office, says: "The action of the commissioner in appointing five deputies salaried at $3,900 each, four of whom were his own son, one of these sons only 19 years old, with no more experience or qualification for the place than his years would imply, compels a very cogent inference that he had conceived a scheme for administering his office which was not only illegitimate as a radical departure from that contemplated by the law, but which was utterly repugant to all notions of economy and decency." Judge Wallace concludes by ordering Mr. Duncan to show cause why he should not be removed from office.

The Fate of the Metricon Mill

THE REPORMERS SURE OF A VICTORY TO MORROW. There is now but little doubt that the motion to strike out the enacting clause of the Morrison bill

The California delegation, who have been counted as Randall men, will hold a meeting this afternoon, to decide upon their action, and one of their number, Mr. Henley, who has been opposed to the Morrison bill from the first, said to a Star reporter today that beyond a doubt they would vote against the motion to strike out the enacting clause. This adds six men to the Morrison ranks. Mr. Lamb is understood to have gone squarely over to Morrison, and these, together with Barbour, George D. Wise and Hill, besides others who will doubtless vote against the motion, render it practically certain that the bill will not be killed to-morrow, though it may suffer many amendments before it gets out of the House. THE CONVERSION OF THE CALIFORNIA DELEGATION is looked upon as most remarkable, particularly in

It is believed that two or three republicans besides Mr. Van Wyck will vote for the bill.

A SCANDAL IN THE BURBAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.—About ten days ago a girl, eighteen years of age, living near the Government Frinting Office and employed at the bureau of engraving and printing, was taken ill. It transpired that she was in a delicate condition, and she attributed her disgrace to Mr. Jos. W. Robinson, an employe of the bureau. This information was sent to the girl's mother, and the girl has not been at work since. Capt. T. N. Burrill, when his attention was brought to the matter, suspended Robinson, and since then he has been allowed to resign. He denies the charge and says that he was never outside the building in company with the young lady but once in his life, and says that he can show at the proper time that he is innocent.
